From: Soo-in Cho, President

Samsung remains committed to the medical equipment business.

A recent media report that Samsung is exiting the business is false and misleading. Samsung is pursuing to solidify in every aspect of the healthcare business.

Customers have seen Samsung's greater presence at the RSNA 2014 with expanded product portfolio in radiology and will witness even more active communications with partners and customers in 2015.

Samsung will continue to provide innovative medical equipment and healthcare solution to customers around the world.

Yours sincerely,
